THE HOME DOCTOR

You can often help a nervous head-ache by combing the hair gently. If there are dark circles around the eyes it means ill health and should be immediately looked after.

Flaxseed tea with plenty of lemon juice and half sugar is very soothing to sore lungs and will often cure a hard cough.

For tender eyes make an infusion of a handful of cornflowers in a pint of hot water. Let it stand an hour. Strain and use either tepid or cold.

When binding up cuts and wounds always use fine linen, not cotton, as the fibers of cotton are flat and apt to irritate a sore place, while those of linen are perfectly rounded.

Clothes wet with alcohol and water or kerosene and water and laid on a hot water bottle will relieve neuralgia when the painful part is steamed over the bottle covered with the cloth.

Soft, Droopy, Clashy.

It is customary for wayfarers in Cumberland to address passing remarks to one another on the subject of the weather, and the dialect is rich in terms denoting the various conditions of the atmosphere. The usual salutation, "It's a fine day," evokes the reply, "Aye, it will, but I doubt we'll have a sun of rain afore noon, because I looked at the glass and I seed she's slipped a bit." When the weather is wet it is said to be "saft," when showery it is "droopy," when windy it is "blowy," when wet and windy it is "clashy" or "slashy." If drizzly, it is described as "daisy." If rough weather, it is "coarse;" if muddy, "clarty;" if dry, "drofty;" if misty, "rowky;" if slippery, "slape."

At certain times of the year a very violent wind rushes down from the top of Cross fell. It is locally known as the "helm wind"—that is, the whirlwind or whirlwind—and during the time it prevails the weather is said to be "helmy." When it shows signs of improvement, an opinion is expressed that it is "going to take up" or "going to come out fair." A fall of snow is termed a "storm," and when it settles fast upon the ground a "feeding storm."—London Express.

Ironized Table Water.

There is no drug that has been so wrongly used and unjustly condemned as iron. It has been taken in huge doses and has then been rejected as causing headache or other trouble. The truth is that iron does most service as a tonic when the dose is very small and it is taken over an extended period. The following is an excellent way of making an ironized table water: Place a teaspoonful of dilute perchloride of iron in an eight ounce bottle, fill up with water and shake. Add a teaspoonful of this to sufficient water to make one pint. This may be taken as freely as ordinary water.
